

PRESS RELEASE 2005

...Lost For Words is a creative company that focuses on bespoke unique gifts. Since it's start 2003 hundreds of people have been lost for words. From beautiful bespoke gift books and personalised gift cards to chocolate boxes, all containing photographs and a story, told in your words.

Our new range for 2005 is available online at www.lostforwordsonline.com with new chocolates, lovely calendars and the special www-box!

Whoever receives these gifts will most certainly be ...Lost For Words

It's a way to tell someone that you care about them and that you are thinking of them. The perfect for every occasion imaginable: birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, weddings, hen nights, stag parties, marriage proposals, romances, baby books, appreciations, congratulations or just an exceptional way to celebrate a great event in their life.

In order to create your own personal gifts, you would need to pick your own photographs and discuss your favourite anecdotes about your friends or loved ones with us.

The studio next to Hyde Park in Central London is always open for appointments. Every client that visits us is thoroughly spoilt with hospitality. We encourage them to tell us details about their Special Someone to make the gift as successful and personal as possible.

We've been featured in a variety of magazines and newspapers, such as the Harpers & Queen 2002 Christmas edition of the best gift guide ever, the Sunday Telegraph, Instyle, Brides, Country Living, Metro and Vogue magazine.

...Lost For Words is stocked in Paul and Joe [available in both their Brompton Cross and Notting Hill boutiques], Blossom an exclusive baby shop on Walton Street and in The Hummingbird Bakery on Portobello Road in Notting Hill.
